FUNDED RESEARCH

Current

- 2009-2014 Co-Investigator & Associate Director for the Community Engagement Core
Title: UW Collaborative Research and Education Initiatives for Health Equity (UW CORES for Health Equity)
Total Cost: $7,300,000 ($966,208 to Milwaukee site); (PI, Adams)
Funding Agency: NIH-National Center on Minority Health and Health Disparities (NCMHD) (P60)
Synopsis: The overall goal of this study is to establish a Comprehensive Center of Excellence as an infrastructure for research, training and community engagement that will address health disparities in the state of Wisconsin. The Center for Urban Population Health will assist in the development of university-community partnerships with two Milwaukee organizations (Lindsey Heights Neighborhood and Social Development Commission).
- 2008-2013 Co-Investigator & UWM Site Principal Investigator
Title: Pathways Linking Poverty, Food Insecurity, and HIV in Rural Malawi (R01)
Total Cost: $2,532,250; (PI, Weinhardt)
Funding Agency: Medical College of Wisconsin P/C DHHS PHS NIH NICHD
Synopsis: 5-year quasi-experimental study examining the effects of a multi-level development intervention involving microfinance, sustainable agriculture training, and food security in rural Malawi on HIV vulnerability (and other health outcomes such as nutrition, maternal health and reproductive health outcomes). This is a collaborative study of the Medical College of Wisconsin (Center for AIDS Intervention Research), University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee College of Nursing, CARE Malawi and CARE USA.

Current (continued)

- 2011-2012     Consultant
Title: Public Will to Reduce Obesity in the Latino Community of Milwaukee
Total Cost: $49,991 (PI, Harley)
Funding Agency: UW SMPH Wisconsin Partnership Fund for a Healthy Future
Synopsis: in response to the prevalence of obesity in Milwaukee's Latino Community, the project seeks to mobilize resources to build a coalition around working on this issue and building public will to address socioeconomic and environmental determinants of obesity.
- 2009-2012     Associate Director and SHOW Core Scientist
Title: Survey of Health of Wisconsin (SHOW) (Continuation)
Total Cost: $4,119,675; (PI, Javier Nieto)
Funding Agency: UW SMPH Wisconsin Partnership Program - MERC Initiatives
Synopsis: The overall goal of this study is to establish an infrastructure for population health research in the state of Wisconsin. The project will conduct health surveys of a probability sample of state residents on an annual basis, incorporating clinical assessments and biomarkers as well as structured interviews and measurements of the physical and social environment. Among a wide range of population health topics, the survey also includes reproductive health, sexual behavior, HIV and STD, nutrition, food security and many other topics. Annual surveys are adapted and modeled after the National Health and Nutrition Examination Surveys (NHANES).
- 2009-2012     Co-Investigator
Title: Novel Population Health Approach to Address Cardiovascular Disease and Pulmonary Health Disparities
Total Cost: $5,326,080; (PI, Javier Nieto)
Funding Agency: NIH National Heart, Lung, and Blood Institute
Synopsis: The main focus will be to identify the determinants of the state's significant health inequities according to place of residence, race/ethnicity, gender, and socioeconomic status. We will create a model information network called the Network for Health Equity of Wisconsin (NHEW) by linking unique existing resources that assess the health of Wisconsin individuals and communities at multiple levels.

FUNDED RESEARCH

Completed, 1995-2011

- 2010-2011     Co-Investigator & UWM Site Principal Investigator
Title: NIH Administrative Supplement to the parent NIH R01 study Pathways Linking Poverty, Food Insecurity, and HIV in Rural Malawi
Total Cost: $244,450 ($ 109,707 to UWM Site); (PI, Weinhardt)
Funding Agency: Medical College of Wisconsin P/C DHHS PHS NIH NICHD (ARRA funds)Synopsis: 1-year Administrative Supplement to funded R01 (see below). The R01 is a 5-year quasi-experimental study examining the effects on HIV vulnerability (and other health outcomes) of a multi-level intervention involving microfinance, sustainable agriculture training, and food security in rural Malawi. This supplement will allow researchers to accelerate the pace of data analysis and will create new US-based positions. The parent R01 (see above) is a collaborative study of the Medical College of Wisconsin (Center for AIDS Intervention Research), University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee College of Nursing, CARE-Malawi and CARE-USA.

Completed, 1995-2011 (continued)

- 2010-2011     Principal Investigator/Academic Partner
Title: Piloting the SHOW Project Community Advisory Board: Partners in Dissemination
Total Cost: $59,950
Funding Agency: UWSMPH Wisconsin Partnership Fund for a Healthy Future
Synopsis: the goal of this project, in collaboration with the Social Development Commission, is to pilot a Community Advisory Board (CAB) to actively involve a lay African American community in Milwaukee in the interpretation, dissemination and translation phases of the Survey of the Health of Wisconsin (SHOW). The CAB members will also provide recommendations for future community-based ancillary intervention studies.
- 2009-2010     Co-Principal Investigator
Title: HIV Transmission Risk, Access to Treatment, and Self Management of Illness Over Time: An In-Depth Longitudinal Study of HIV-Infected Women in Kenya
Total Cost: $129,219; (PI, Kako)
Funding Agency: UW-Milwaukee Research Growth Initiative (RGI)
The purpose of the study is to develop in-depth understanding of long-term HIV transmission risk, access to HIV treatment, and self-management of illness. Specific aims are to 1) explore gender roles and HIV transmission risks, 2) examine personal and contextual factors that influence women's capacity to access HIV treatment on a consistent basis over time, and 3) describe the daily behaviors women perform over time to manage HIV/AIDS and maximize their health and the health and well-being of their families.
- 2008-2010     Consultant
Title: Violence in the Lives of HIV-Infected Women in Malawi: a Critical Ethnography
Total Cost: $63,219; (PI, Mkandawire)
Funding Agency: UW-Milwaukee Research Growth Initiative (RGI)
Synopsis: The purpose of this critical ethnography is to develop in-depth understanding of violence in the lives of HIV-infected Malawian women.
- 2007-2009     Co-Investigator
Title: Piloting a Community-Based Participatory Approach with Latinas Living with HIV
Funding Agency: Center for Urban Population Health Scientist Development Fund
Total Cost: $50,000; (PI, Stevens)
Synopsis: One-year study to pilot a community-based participatory approach to investigate the health issues and resource needs of urban HIV-infected Latinas living in Milwaukee.
- 2006-2009     Associate Director and SHOW Scientist
Title: Survey of Health of Wisconsin
Funding Agency: Wisconsin Partnership Fund for a Healthy Future
Total Cost (UW-Madison): $3,576,907; (PI, Nieto)
Synopsis: The overall goal of this study was to establish an infrastructure for population health research in the state of Wisconsin. The project is conducting health surveys of a probability sample of state residents on an annual basis, incorporating clinical assessments and biomarkers as well as structured interviews and measurements of the physical and social environment. Among a wide range of population health topics, the survey also includes reproductive health, sexual behavior, HIV and STD, nutrition, food security and many other topics.
